FROM THE

LONDON GAZETTE of JANUARY 8, 1833.

At the Council-Chamber, Whitehall, the 5th day of January 1833,

By the Lords of His Majesty's Most Honourable Privy Council.

WHEREAS by an Act, passed in the second year of the reign of His present Majesty, intituled "An Act for the prevention, as far as may be possible, of the disease, called the cholera, or spasmodic, or Indian cholera, in England," it is, amongst other things, enacted, that it shall and may be lawful for the Lords and others of His Majesty's Most Ho-

Honourable Privy Council, or any two or more of them (of whom the Lord President of the Council, or one of His Majesty's Principal Secretaries of State for the time being, shall always be one), by any Order or Orders to be by them from time to time made, to establish, and again, from time to time, by any such Order or Orders, to revoke, renew, alter, or vary all such rules and regulations, or to substitute any such new rules and regulations, as to them may appear necessary or expedient, for the prevention, as far as may be possible, of the spreading of the said disease, called the cholera, or spasmodic, or Indian cholera, in England or Wales, or any part thereof, or for the relief of any persons suffering under, or likely to be affected by, the said disease:

And whereas it is further enacted by the said Act, that all and every the expences which may be reasonably and properly incurred, in carrying into effect any Order of the Lords of His Majesty's Most Honourable Privy Council, made as aforesaid, shall, under and by virtue of an order in writing of some justice of the peace, dwelling in or near the parish or division (and which said order any such justice is thereby empowered and directed to make, commanding the churchwardens, overseers, or guardians of the poor for the time being, to pay a certain sufficient sum of money for such purpose), be defrayed out of the rates for the relief of the poor of the parish, township, or extra parochial place maintaining its own poor, in which the same shall be incurred, and, in other extra parochial places, out of the poors' rate of the parish nearest adjoining:

And whereas the said disease hath extended to the township of Knaresborough, and other parts of Great Britain have been and may be affected by the same:

And whereas by two several Orders in Council, made on the sixth day of March and the nineteenth day of July last past, by the Lords and others of His Majesty's Privy Council (of whom the Lord President of the Council was one), it was, amongst other things, ordered and directed, that every Board of Health, constituted by an Order of the Privy Council, should and might apply to the select or parish vestry of the parish, township, ecclesiastical division, district, or place, for which such Boards of Health are appointed, for authority and powers to carry into effect the sanitary purposes of the Act before recited, and the measures of preparation and precaution in the said Orders described, and to provide a certain sufficient sum of money for the discharge of the necessary expences thereof, of which the amount should be declared and fixed by the said vestries:

And whereas it hath been represented to their Lordships, that estimates, accounts, and vouchers, containing a detailed statement of all the necessary expences, and a request for the funds to meet them, amounting in the whole to the sum of sixty pounds, have been submitted and made by the Board of Health for Knaresborough, and Scriven with Tentergate, to the vestry meetings of the township of Knaresborough and the township of Scriven respectively, such vestries being severally and duly convened; when the vestry of the township of Knaresborough consented to grant to the said Board of Health the sum of forty pounds ten shillings, being its proportionate share of the said sum of sixty pounds; but the vestry of the township of Scriven declined to comply with the requisition of the said Board of Health for the sum of nineteen pounds ten shillings, their proportion of the said sum of sixty pounds; such several sums being applied for by the said Board from the different townships aforesaid, to provide for the just expences incurred in carrying into effect the sanitary purposes of the before-recited Act, and the measures of preparation and precaution prescribed in the before-mentioned Order of their Lordships founded thereon:

It

It is, therefore, ordered by the Lords and others of His Majesty's Most Honourable Privy Council (of whom Viscount Melbourne, one of His Majesty's Principal Secretaries of State, is one), in pursuance of the powers vested in them by the before-recited Act, that so much of the Orders in Council of the sixth day of March and nineteenth day of July last past, as requires the amount of the sum to be defrayed in discharge of the necessary expences of such sanitary measures to be fixed and declared by such vestries as aforesaid, be, and they are hereby, revoked and altered, in so far as respects the said township of Scriven, and the said sum of nineteen pounds ten shillings:

And that the said Board of Health for Knaresborough, and Scriven with Tentergate, shall and may, and they are hereby authorised and empowered to make application, by their chairman or secretary, to some justice of the peace living in or near the parish or division, to make his order, in writing, upon the parish officers, guardians of the poor, or district churchwardens of the said township of Scriven, commanding them to pay the said sum of nineteen pounds ten shillings, for the purposes aforesaid, out of the rates levied, or next hereafter to be levied, for the relief of the poor of such parish; which said order such justice of the peace is hereby required and enjoined to make, in pursuance and exercise of the powers vested in him by the before-recited Act; and the said parish officers, guardians of the poor, or district churchwardens, are hereby ordered and commanded to pay such sum of money in obedience to the order of such justice, in the manner therein directed, or they will incur the penalties consequent upon disobedience to such before-recited Act, and to the present Order:

And the Lords and others of His Majesty's

Privy Council (of whom Viscount Melbourne, one of His Majesty's Principal Secretaries of State, is one) do hereby declare, that for all acts, deeds, matters, and things properly done by such Board of Health, justice of the peace, overseers, churchwardens, guardians of the poor, and others His Majesty's subjects, in execution and furtherance of this present Order of the Lords and others in Council, or of any order so to be made by any such justice as aforesaid, this Order shall be their full and sufficient warrant.

Lord Chamberlain's-Office, January 21, 1833.

NOTICE is hereby given, that His Majesty will hold a Levee at St. James's-Palace, on Friday the 22d of February next, at two o'clock; and on every succeeding Wednesday until further notice.

REGULATIONS TO BE OBSERVED AT THE KING'S LEVEES, AT ST. JAMES'S-PALACE.

The Noblemen and Gentlemen who propose to attend His Majesty's Levees at St. James's-Palace, are requested to bring with them two cards with their names thereon written, one to be left with the King's Page in attendance in the Presence-Chamber, and the other to be delivered to the Lord in Waiting, who will announce the name to His Majesty. And those Gentlemen who are to be presented are hereby informed, it is absolutely necessary that their names, with the name of the Gentleman who is to present them (not the Lord in Waiting), should be sent in to the Lord Chamberlain's-Office, BEFORE twelve o'clock on Wednesday previous to the Levee on the 22d of February, and on the Monday previous to each succeeding Levee, in order that they may be submitted for the King's approbation; it being His Ma- jesty's

jesty's command, that no presentation shall hereafter be made at the Levees, but in conformity with the above regulations; and further, that no person shall be admitted, on any pretence whatever, who has not been so presented.

It is particularly requested, that Gentlemen who are to be presented at the Levees will have their names distinctly written upon the card to be delivered to the Lord in Waiting, in order that there may be no mistake in announcing them to the King.

The state apartments will not be open for the reception of company coming to Court, until half past one o'clock.

Lord Chamberlain's-Office, January 21, 1833.

Notice is hereby given, that the Drawing-Room to be held at St. James's-Palace, on Monday the 25th of February next, being for the celebration of Her Majesty's Birth-day, the Knights of the several Orders are to appear in their Collars.

Whitehall, January 19, 1833.

Major-General Sir James Bathurst, K. C. B. to be Governor of Berwick, vice Sir Banastre Tarleton, deceased. Dated 1st February 1833.

FROM THE

LONDON GAZETTE of FEBRUARY 8, 1833.

St. James's-Palace, February 5, 1833.

THIS day His Majesty proceeded in state from St. James's-Palace to the House of Peers, where he arrived about two o'clock; and was received, on alighting from his state coach, by the Lord Chancellor, the Lord President of the Council, the De-

Deputy Lord Great Chamberlain, the Earl Marshal, the Lord Steward of the Household, Garter, and Black Rod, and proceeded to the robing-room in the customary manner.

His Majesty was there robed, and having put on the imperial crown, the procession moved into the House in the usual order;—the sword of state was borne by Ear Grey, K.G. and the cap of maintenance by the Marquess of Winchester.

His Majesty being seated upon the Throne, the Great Officers of State and others standing on the right and left, Sir Augustus Clifford, Knt. the Usher of the Black Rod, was sent with a message from His Majesty to the House of Commons, commanding their attendance in the House of Peers. The Commons being come thither accordingly, His Majesty was pleased to deliver the following most gracious Speech to both Houses of Parliament:

My Lords, and Gentlemen,

THE period being now arrived at which the business of Parliament is usually resumed, I have called you together for the discharge of the important duties with which you are entrusted.

Never, at any time, did subjects of greater interest and magnitude call for your attention.

I have still to lament the continuance of the civil war in Portugal, which has, for some months, existed between the Princes of the House of Braganza. From the commencement of this contest, I have abstained from all interference, except such as was required for the protection of British subjects resident in Portugal; but you may be assured that I shall not fail to avail Myself of any opportunity that may be afforded Me, to assist in restoring peace to a country with which the interests of My dominions are so intimately connected.

I have also to regret that My anxious endeavours to to effect a definitive arrangement between Holland and Belgium have hitherto been unsuccessful. I found Myself at length compelled, in conjunction with the King of the French, to take measures for the execution of the Treaty of the 15th of November 1831. The capture of the citadel of Antwerp has in part accomplished that object; but the Dutch Government still refusing to evacuate the rest of the territories assigned to Belgium by that Treaty, the embargo which I had directed to be imposed on the Dutch commerce has been continued. Negociations are again commenced; and you may rely on their being conducted on My part, as they have uniformly been, with the single view of ensuring to Holland and Belgium a separate existence, on principles of mutual security and independence.

The good faith and honour with which the French Government has acted in these transactions, and the assurances which I continue to receive from the chief Powers of Europe of their friendly disposition, give me confidence in the success of my endeavours to preserve the general peace. I have given directions that the various papers which are necessary for your information on the affairs of Holland and Belgium should be laid before you.

The approaching termination of the charters of the Bank of England and of the East India Company will require a revision of these establishments; and I rely on your wisdom for making such provisions for the important interests connected with them, as may appear, from experience and full consideration, to be best calculated to secure public credit, to improve and extend our commerce, and to promote the general prosperity and power of the British empire.

Your attention will also be directed to the state of the Church, more particularly as regards its temporalities and the maintenance of the Clergy. The complaints which have arisen from the collection of tithes tithes appear to require a change of system, which, without diminishing the means of maintaining the Established Clergy in respectability and usefulness, may prevent the collision of interests, and the consequent disagreement and dissatisfaction which have too frequently prevailed between the Ministers of the Church and their parishioners.

It may also be necessary for you to consider what remedies may be applied for the correction of acknowledged abuses, and whether the revenues of the Church may not admit of a more equitable and judicious distribution.

In your deliberations on these important subjects, it cannot be necessary for Me to impress upon you the duty of carefully attending to the security of the Church established by law in these realms, and to the true interests of religion.

In relation to Ireland, with a view of removing the causes of complaint which had been so generally felt, and which had been attended with such unfortunate consequences, an Act was passed during the last session of Parliament, for carrying into effect a general composition for tithes; to complete that salutary work, I recommend to you, in conjunction with such other amendments of the law as may be found applicable to that part of My dominions, the adoption of a measure, by which, upon the principle of a just commutation, the possessors of land may be enabled to free themselves from the burthen of an annual payment.

In the further reforms that may be necessary, you will probably find, that, although the Established Church of Ireland is by law permanently united with that of England, the peculiarities of their respective circumstances will require a separate consideration.

There are other subjects hardly less important to the general peace and welfare of Ireland, as affecting the administration of justice and the local taxation ation of that country, to which your attention will also be required.

Gentlemen of the House of Commons,

I have directed the estimates for the service of the year to be laid before you: they will be framed with the most anxious attention to all useful economy. Notwithstanding the large reduction in the estimates of the last year, I am happy to inform you that all the extraordinary services which the exigencies of the times required have been amply provided for. The state of the revenue, as compared with the public expenditure, has hitherto fully realized the expectations that were formed at the close of the last session.

My Lords, and Gentlemen,

In this part of the United Kingdom, with very few exceptions, the public peace has been preserved; and it will be your anxious but grateful duty to promote, by all practicable means, habits of industry and good order amongst the labouring classes of the community.

On My part I shall be ready to co-operate, to the utmost of My power, in obviating all just causes of complaint, and in promoting all well-considered measures of improvement. But it is My painful duty to observe, that the disturbances in Ireland, to which I adverted at the close of the last session, have greatly increased. A spirit of insubordination and violence has risen to the most fearful height, rendering life and property insecure, defying the authority of the law, and threatening the most fatal consequences, if not promptly and effectually repressed.

I feel confident that to your loyalty and patriotism I shall not resort in vain for assistance in these afflicting circumstances; and that you will be ready to adopt such measures of salutary precaution, and

to entrust to Me such additional powers, as may be found necessary for controuling and punishing the disturbers of the public peace, and for preserving and strengthening the legislative union between the two countries, which, with your support, and under the blessing of Divine Providence, I am determined to maintain by all the means in My power, as indissolubly connected with the peace, security, and welfare of My dominions.

Office of Lord Chamberlain to the Queen, February 5, 1833.

Notice is hereby given, that it is expected that all Ladies attending Her Majesty's Drawing-Rooms, do appear in dresses of British manufacture.

At the Council-Chamber, Whitehall, the 5th day of February 1833,

By the Lords of His Majesty's Most Honourable Privy Council.

WHEREAS by an Act, passed in the second year of the reign of His present Majesty, intituled "An Act for the prevention, as far as may be possible, of the disease, called the cholera, or spasmodic, or Indian cholera, in England," it is, amongst other things, enacted, that it shall and may be lawful for the Lords and others of His Majesty's Most Honourable Privy Council, or any two or more of them (of whom the Lord President of the Council, or one of His Majesty's Principal Secretaries of State for the time being, shall always be one), by any Order or Orders to be by them from time to time made, to establish, and again, from time to time, by any such Order or Orders, to revoke, renew, alter, or vary all such rules and regulations, or to substitute any such new rules and regulations, as to them may appear necessary or expedient, for the prevention, as far as may be possible, of the spreading of the said disease, called the cholera, or spasmodic, or Indian cholera, in England or Wales, or any part thereof, or for the relief of any persons suffering under, or likely to be affected by, the said disease:

And whereas it is further enacted by the said Act, that all and every the expences which may be reasonably and properly incurred, in carrying into effect any Order of the Lords of His Majesty's Most Honourable Privy Council, made as aforesaid, shall, under and by virtue of an order in writing of some justice of the peace, dwelling in or near the parish or division (and which said order any such justice is thereby empowered and directed to make, commanding the churchwardens, overseers, or guardians of the poor for the time being, to pay a certain sufficient sum of money for such purpose), be defrayed out of the rates for the relief of the poor of the parish, township, or extra parochial place maintaining its own poor, in which the same shall be incurred, and, in other extra parochial places, out of the poors' rate of the parish nearest adjoining:

And whereas the said disease hath extended to the parish of Tardebigg, and other parts of Great Britain have been and may be affected by the same:

And whereas by two several Orders in Council, made on the sixth day of March and the nineteenth day of July last past, by the Lords and others of His Majesty's Privy Council (of whom the Lord President of the Council was one), it was, amongst other things, ordered and directed, that every Board of Health, constituted by an Order of the Privy Council, should and might apply to the select or parish vestry of the parish, township, ecclesiastical division, district, or place, for which such Boards of Health are

appointed, for authority and powers to carry into effect the sanitary purposes of the Act before recited, and the measures of preparation and precaution in the said Orders described, and to provide a certain sufficient sum of money for the discharge of the necessary expences thereof, of which the amount should be declared and fixed by the said vestries:

And whereas it hath been represented to the Lords of the Privy Council, that a detailed statement of all the necessary expences, with accounts and vouchers for the same, and a request for the funds to meet them, amounting in the whole to the sum of two hundred and twenty-four pounds fifteen shillings, hath been submitted and made by the Board of Health for the parish of Tardebigg to the vestry meetings of the several parts of the said parish, situate and being in the two counties of Worcester and Warwick respectively, such vestries being both duly convened; when the vestry of the part of the parish of Tardebigg lying in the county of Worcester consented to grant its proportionate share of the said expences so incurred as aforesaid; but the vestry of the part of the same parish lying in the county of Warwick declined or avoided to comply with the application of the Board of Health for the payment of fifty-five pounds and six pence, their proportion of the said sum of two hundred and twenty-four pounds fifteen shillings; the sum applied for by the said Board of Health to the said vestries, to provide for the just expences incurred in carrying into effect the purposes of the before-recited Act, and the measures of preparation and precaution prescribed in the before-mentioned Orders of their Lordships founded thereon:

It is, therefore, ordered by the Lords and others of His Majesty's Most Honourable Privy Council (of whom the Lord President of the Council is one), in pursuance of the powers vested in them by the before-recited Act, that so much of the Orders in

Council of the sixth day of March and nineteenth day of July last past, as requires the amount of the sum to be defrayed in discharge of the necessary expences of such sanitary measures to be fixed and declared by such vestries as aforesaid, be, and they are hereby, revoked and altered, in so far as respects the said parish of Tardebigg, and the said sum of fifty-five pounds and six pence, and the said entire amount of two hundred and twenty-four pounds fifteen shillings:

And that the said Board of Health for Tardebigg shall and may, and they are hereby authorised and empowered to make application, by their chairman or secretary, to some justice of the peace living in or near the parish or division, to make his order, in writing, upon the parish officers, guardians of the poor, or district churchwardens of that part of the parish of Tardebigg situate in the county of Warwick, to pay the said sum of fifty-five pounds and six pence, for the purposes aforesaid, out of the rates levied, or next hereafter to be levied, for the relief of the poor of such parish; and upon the parish officers of that part of the parish situate in the county of Worcester, to pay the remainder of the said sum of two hundred and twenty-four pounds fifteen shillings, for the like purposes, and out of the before-mentioned fund; which said order such justice of the peace is hereby required and enjoined to make, in pursuance and exercise of the powers vested in him by the before-recited Act; and the said parish officers, guardians of the poor, or district churchwardens, are hereby ordered and commanded to pay such sum or sums of money in obedience to the order of such justice, in the manner therein directed, or they will incur the penalties consequent upon disobedience to such before-recited Act, and to the present Order:

And the Lords and others of His Majesty's Privy Council (of whom the Lord President of the Council is one) do hereby declare, that for all acts, deeds, matters, and things properly done by such Board of Health, justice of the peace, overseers, churchwardens, guardians of the poor, and others His Majesty's subjects, in execution and furtherance of this present Order of the Lords and others in Council, or of any order so to be made by any such justice as aforesaid, this Order shall be their full and sufficient warrant.

CEREMONIAL of the Investiture of Admiral Sir Davidge Gould with the Ensigns of a Knight Grand Cross of the Most Honourable Military Order of the Bath; and of Admiral Sir Charles Hamilton, Bart. with the Ensigns of a Knight Commander of the said Most Honourable Military Order.

The following Knights Grand Crosses, in their mantles and collars of the Order, assembled at St. James's-Palace, viz. His Royal Highness the Duke of Cumberland; His Royal Highness the Duke of Gloucester; Lord De Saumarez; Lord Viscount Beresford; Lord Hill; Sir William Henry Clinton; the Right Honourable Sir James Kempt; Sir George Townshend Walker; the Earl of Rosslyn; the Right Honourable Sir Charles Bagot; Sir Harry Neale, Bart.; Sir Henry Fane; Sir James Hawkins Whitshed; the Right Honourable Sir John Byng; the Honourable Sir Robert Stopford; Sir Benjamin Hallowell-Carew; Sir Henry Warde; Sir James Willoughby Gordon, Bart.; Sir Thomas Masterman Hardy, Bart.; and Lord Viscount Palmerston; attended by the under-named Officers of the Order, in their mantles, chains, and badges, viz. the Dean of of Westminster, Dean of the Order; Walter Aston Blount, Esq. Gencalogist; Algernon Greville, Esq. Bath King of Arms; Sir William Woods, Clarenceux King of Arms, Deputy Register and Secretary of the Order; and George-Frederick Beltz, Esq. Gentleman Usher of the Order.

At half past two o'clock, the Knights Grand Crosses were called over, and, with the Officers of the Order, proceeded into the presence of the Sovereign in the Throne-room, with the usual reverences.

Then, by His Majesty's command, Admiral Sir Davidge Gould was introduced into the Royal Presence, between Sir Thomas Masterman Hardy, Bart. and Lord Viscount Palmerston, the two Junior Knights Grand Crosses, preceded by Bath King of Arms, bearing the ribband, badge, and star of a Knight Grand Cross of the Order upon a crimson velvet cushion, and by the Gentleman Usher of the Order.

His Royal Highness the Duke of Cumberland having thereupon received from Bath King of Arms the ribband and badge, presented them to the Sovereign, and Sir Davidge Gould, kneeling, His Majesty was graciously pleased to put the same over the Admiral's right shoulder; Sir Davidge Gould, rising, had the honour to kiss the Sovereign's hand, and, having received from His Majesty the star of the Order, withdrew.

Then, by command of the Sovereign, Admiral Sir Charles Hamilton, Bart. was conducted, with the usual reverences, to His Majesty, preceded by Sir William Woods, the Officer of Arms attendant upon the Knights Commanders, bearing upon a crimson velvet cushion the star, ribband, and badge of the second class of the Order; and by Sir Nicholas Harris Nicolas, the Secretary to the Knights Commanders.

The sword of state being thereupon delivered to His Majesty by His Royal Highness the Duke of Cumberland, Sir Charles Hamilton, kneeling, was knight-knighted therewith; after which he had the honour to kiss His Majesty's hand.

Then the Officer of Arms, on his knee, presenting to the Sovereign the ribband and badge of a Knight Commander, the King was pleased to invest Sir Charles Hamilton with the same.

The Admiral, having again had the honour to kiss the Sovereign's hand, and having received from His Majesty the star of a Knight Commander, retired.

The Knights Grand Crosses were then again called over, and, with the Officers of the Order, retired from the presence of the Sovereign, with the usual reverences.

St. James-Palace, February 4, 1833.

St. James's-Palace, February 22, 1833.

THIS day the Archbishop of Canterbury and Bishops, with the Prolocutor and Members of the Lower House of Convocation of the Clergy of the province of Canterbury, waited upon His Majesty to present the following Address; which was received by His Majesty upon the Throne:

To the KING's Most Excellent Majesty.

Most Gracious Sovereign,

WE, your Majesty's dutiful servants, the Archbishop, Bishops, and Clergy of the province of Canterbury, in Convocation assembled, most humbly desire permission to express to your Majesty our sentiments of loyal and respectful attachment to your Majesty's Throne and Person.

Since last we had the honour of addressing your Majesty, the disposition to violence which, in some parts of the island, had shewn itself in tumults and outrages of a highly criminal character, has given way to better feelings; and the cessation of these alarming enormities affords reason to hope that, through the blessing of Divine Providence on the paternal cares of your Majesty, progressive relief may be obtained from the evils which still continue to act with injurious influence on the peace and morals of the community.

But,

But, Sir, we cannot dissemble that, whether from the peculiar complexion of the times, or from some fault in our social economy, the country does not reap all the advantages which might be expected from the purity of our national religion, and the zeal and ability of its Members.

Among the various causes which disappoint the hopes of the Pastor, and counteract the effect of his example and precepts, we venture to specify the intemperate use of intoxicating liquors, the assiduous distribution of immoral and impious writings, and the neglect and profanation of the Lord's day. The distresses of the poor are thus greatly increased, their passions inflamed, and their feelings embittered; while the day, set apart by the Commandment for the public worship of God and instruction in his holy word, affords more unlimited scope for the indulgence of vicious pleasures and the propagation of wicked principles.

In making these representations to your Majesty, we are actuated, not so much by the desire of vindicating ourselves from unmerited censure, as by a sense of our duty to your Majesty, as the supreme Governor, under Christ, of our Church. We do not imagine that, for evils so great and extensive, an immediate cure can be found in mere legal provisions, since laws will have little effect, if they are not in accordance with the prevailing sentiments of the community. Yet, we humbly conceive, that much might be done for the protection of the ignorant from error and vice, and for the encouragement of piety and virtue, by discreet legislation, advisedly directed to the improvement of the public morals, more especially if seconded by that reverence for religion and regard to propriety of conduct, on the part of the higher orders, which are prescribed alike, by duty and interest, to men of all classes in society.

The obligations peculiarly incumbent on us, to lead lead the way in all that is good, in all that is holy, not confining ourselves to the bare discharge of our professional duty, but assiduously seeking opportunities of fulfilling the will of our Lord, we feel and willingly acknowledge. And we venture to assure your Majesty, that we shall be anxious at all times to concur and assist in any safe and effectual measures which, on mature consideration, shall appear to be calculated to advance the great work for which the Church was established, by removing whatever impediments may be found to obstruct the free course of our Ministry, and by enlarging the channels through which the benefits of our pure and holy religion are distributed to the several portions of the community.

By our conduct we desire to be tried; if we shrink from the performance of our duties, we give up our title to the character of faithful Ministers of Christ, or useful Servants of the State; if, in spite of discouragements, we labour in our calling with zeal and fidelity, we humbly venture to hope for the continuance of that protection and countenance which we have hitherto so largely received from your Majesty's favour, and which at present are more than ever required for the preservation of the Church.

We avail ourselves of this opportunity of respectfully offering our grateful acknowledgments for the concern which has been evinced by your Majesty for the distresses of our brethren in Ireland, who, from no fault of their own, are exposed to the most grievous calamities. Your Majesty's goodness to these exemplary Ministers of our united Church, will not only contribute to the relief of their sufferings, but will operate as a cordial to their sorrows.

That your Majesty's Councils may be directed at all times by the spirit of wisdom, which cometh from above; and that your Majesty may long be preserved in the full and uninterrupted enjoyment of every blessing, is, Sir, our earnest prayer.

To which Address His Majesty was pleased to return the following most gracious Answer:

" My Lords, and the rest of the Clergy,

" I thank you for this loyal and dutiful Address.

" I repose entire confidence in your expression of attachment to my Throne and Person.

" I deeply lament that any principles or practices, which tend to counteract the effect and example of your Ministry, should prevail amongst any portion of my people; but no effort shall be wanting on my part, to repress and discountenance licentiousness and immorality, and to promote throughout my dominions the true spirit of piety and the observance of the precepts of the Holy Gospel.

" I rely securely upon the fidelity and zeal with which you exercise the duties of your sacred calling. In the fulfilment of those duties you will always experience from me every protection and encouragement; and it is with great satisfaction that I receive upon this occasion, the assurance of your anxiety to concur and assist in any safe and effectual measures which, on mature consideration, shall appear to be calculated to advance the great work for which the Church was established, by removing whatever impediments may be found to obstruct the course of your Ministry, and by enlarging the channels through which the benefits of our pure and holy religion are distributed to the several portions of the community."

June the 20th.

At the Council-Chamber, Whitehall, the 2d day of May 1833,

By the Lords of His Majesty's Most Honourable Privy Council.

WHEREAS by an Act, passed in the second year of the reign of His present Majesty, intitnled "An Act for the prevention, as far as may be pos- "sible, of the disease, called the cholera, or spas- "modic, or Indian cholera, in England," it is, amongst other things, enacted, that it shall and may be lawful for the Lords and others of His Majesty's Most Honourable Privy Council, or any two or more of them (of whom the Lord President of the Council, or one of His Majesty's Principal Secretaries of State for the time being, shall always be one), by any Order or Orders to be by them from time to time made, to establish, and again, from time to time, by any such Order or Orders, to revoke, renew, alter, or vary all such rules and regulations, or to substitute any such new rules and regulations, as to them may appear necessary or expedient, for the prevention, as far as may be possible, of the spreading of the said disease, called the cholera, or spasmodic, or Indian cholera, in England or Wales, or any part thereof, or for the relief of any persons suffering under, or likely to be affected by, the said disease:

And whereas it is further enacted by the said Act, that all and every the expences which may be reasonably and properly incurred, in carrying into effect any Order of the Lords of His Majesty's Most Honourable Privy Council, made as aforesaid, shall, under and by virtue of an order in writing of some justice of the peace, dwelling in or near the parish or division (and which said order any such justice is thereby empowered and directed to make, commanding the churchwardens, overseers, or guardians of

of the poor for the time being, to pay a certain sufficient sum of money for such purpose), be defrayed out of the rates for the relief of the poor of the parish, township, or extra parochial place maintaining its own poor, in which the same shall be incurred, and, in other extra parochial places, out of the poors' rate of the parish nearest adjoining:

And whereas the said disease of cholera extended to many parts of Great Britain, and the township of Heaton Norris was affected with the same:

And whereas by an Order of the Lords of the Privy Council, issued on the nineteenth day of July last past, it was, amongst other things, ordered and directed that every Board of Health, constituted by an Order of the Privy Council, should and might apply to the select or parish vestry of the parish or place for power to carry into effect the purposes of the Act before recited, and the measures of furnishing medicines and medical assistance, nurses and other necessary attendants, to the sick poor at their own habitations:

And whereas it hath been represented to their Lordships, that a statement of the necessary expences incurred for such sanitary purposes, amounting to the sum of ten pounds, hath been submitted to the vestry meeting of the township of Heaton Norris, when the vestry declined to comply with such requisition for the sum of ten pounds, until such application should have received the approval and sanction of their Lordships:

And whereas it hath been shewn to the satisfaction of their Lordships, that such charge is reasonable and proper, and fit to be defrayed out of the rates for the relief of the poor of the said township, according to the provisions of the said Act herein before recited:

It is, therefore, ordered by the Lords and others of His Majesty's Most Honourable Privy Council (of whom the Lord President of the Council is one), in pur-

pursuance of the powers vested in them by the Act aforesaid, that so much of the Order in Council of the nineteenth day of July last past, as requires the amount of the sum to be defrayed in discharge of the necessary expences of such sanitary measures, to be fixed and declared by such vestries as aforesaid, be, and it is hereby, revoked and altered, in so far as respects the said township of Heaton Norris and the said sum of ten pounds:

And that the secretary of the said Board of Health for Heaton Norris, or any member thereof, shall and may, and they are hereby authorised and empowered to, make application to some justice of the peace living in or near the township or division, to make his order, in writing, upon the parish officers, guardians of the poor, or district churchwardens of the said township of Heaton Norris, commanding them to pay the said sum of ten pounds, for the purposes aforesaid, out of the rates levied, or next hereafter to be levied, for the relief of the poor of such township, which said order such justice of the peace is hereby required and enjoined to make, in pursuance and exercise of the powers vested in him by the before-recited Act; and the said parish officers, guardians of the poor, or district churchwardens are hereby ordered and commanded to pay such sum of money, in obedience to the order of such justice, in the manner therein directed, or they will incur the penalties consequent upon disobedience to such before-recited Act and to the present Order:

And the Lords and others of His Majesty's Privy Council (of whom the Lord President of the Council is one) do hereby declare, that for all acts, deeds, matters, and things properly done by such Board of Health, or member thereof, justice of the peace, overseers, churchwardens, guardians of the poor, and others His Majesty's subjects, in execution and furtherance of this present Order of the Lords

and others in Council, or of any order so to be made by any such justice as aforesaid, this Order shall be their full and sufficient warrant.

Bath King of Arms; Sir William Woods, Clarenceux King of Arms, Deputy Register and Secretary of the Order; and George-Frederick Beltz, Esq. Gentleman Usher of the Order.

At two o'clock the Knights Grand Crosses were called over, and, with the Officers of the Order, proceeded into the presence of the Sovereign in the Throne-room, with the usual reverences.

Then, by His Majesty's command, Admiral Sir Charles Tyler was introduced into the Royal Presence, between the two Junior Knights Grand Crosses present, preceded by Bath King of Arms, bearing the ribband, badge, and star of a Knight Grand Cross of the Order upon a crimson velvet cushion, and by the Gentleman Usher of the Order.

His Royal Highness the Duke of Cumberland having thereupon received from Bath King of Arms the ribband and badge, presented them to the Sovereign, and Sir Charles Tyler, kneeling, His Majesty was graciously pleased to put the same over the Admiral's right shoulder; Sir Charles Tyler, rising, had the honour to kiss the Sovereign's hand, and, having received from His Majesty the star of the Order, withdrew.

Vice-

Vice-Admiral Sir Pulteney Malcolm (Knight Grand Cross of the Most Distinguished Order of St. Michael and St. George), was then introduced into the presence of the Sovereign, and invested with the Ensigns of a Knight Grand Cross of the Most Honourable Military Order of the Bath, with the like ceremonies.

Then, by command of the Sovereign, Rear-Admiral Sir Thomas Harvey was conducted, with the usual reverences, to His Majesty, preceded by Sir William Woods, the Officer of Arms attendant upon the Knights Commanders, bearing upon a crimson velvet cushion the star, ribband, and badge of the second class of the Order; and by Sir Nicholas Harris Nicolas, the Secretary to the Knights Commanders.

The sword of state being thereupon delivered to His Majesty by His Royal Highness the Duke of Cumberland, Sir Thomas Harvey, kneeling, was knighted therewith; after which he had the honour to kiss His Majesty's hand.

Then the Officer of Arms, on his knee, presenting to the Sovereign the ribband and badge of a Knight Commander, the King was pleased to invest Sir Thomas Harvey with the same.

The Rear-Admiral, having again had the honour to kiss the Sovereign's hand, and having received from His Majesty the star of a Knight Commander, retired.

The Knights Grand Crosses were then again called over, and, with the Officers of the Order, retired from the presence of the Sovereign, with the usual reverences.

FROM THE

LONDON GAZETTE of JUNE 18, 1833.

At the Council-Chamber, Whitehall, the 17th day of June 1833,

By the Lords of His Majesty's Most Honourable Privy Council.

WHEREAS by an Act, passed in the second year of the reign of His present Majesty, intituled "An Act for the prevention, as far as may be possible, of the disease, called the cholera, or spasmodic, or Indian cholera, in England," it is, amongst other things, enacted, that it shall and may be lawful for the Lords and others of His Majesty's Most Honourable Privy Council, or any two or more of them (of whom the Lord President of the Council, or one of His Majesty's Principal Secretaries of State for the time being, shall always be one), by any Order or Orders to be by them from time to time made, to establish, and again, from time to time, by any such Order or Orders, to revoke, renew, alter, or vary all such rules and regulations, or to substitute any such new rules and regulations, as to them may appear necessary or expedient, for the prevention, as far as may be possible, of the spreading of the said disease, called the cholera, or spasmodic, or Indian cholera, in England and Wales, or any part thereof, or for the relief of any persons suffering under, or likely to be affected by, the said disease:

And

And whereas it is further enacted by the said Act, that all and every the expences which may be reasonably and properly incurred, in carrying into effect any Order of the Lords of His Majesty's Most Honourable Privy Council, made as aforesaid, shall, under and by virtue of an order in writing of some justice of the peace, dwelling in or near the parish or division (and which said order any such justice is thereby empowered and directed to make), commanding the churchwardens, overseers, or guardians of the poor, for the time being, to pay a certain sufficient sum of money for such purpose, be defrayed out of the rates for the relief of the poor of the parish, township, or extra parochial place maintaining its own poor, in which the same shall be incurred, and, in other extra parochial places, out of the poors' rate of the parish nearest adjoining:

And whereas the said disease of cholera extended to many parts of Great Britain, and the townships of Goole and Hook, in the district of Marshland, in the county of York, were affected with the same; and a Board of Health was constituted and appointed for the said township of Goole and district of Marshland, by the Lords of the Privy Council:

And whereas by two several Orders in Council, made on the sixth day of March and the nineteenth day of July last past, by the Lords and others of His Majesty's Privy Council (of whom the Lord President of the Council was one), it was, amongst other things, ordered and directed, that every Board of Health, constituted by an Order of the Privy Council, should and might apply to the select or parish vestry of the parish, township, ecclesiastical division, district, or place for which such Boards of Health were appointed, for authority and powers to carry into effect the sanitary purposes of the before-recited Act, and the measures of preparation and precaution in the said Orders described, and

and to provide a certain sufficient sum of money for the discharge of the necessary expences thereof:

And whereas it hath been represented to the Lords of the Council, that the Board of Health, constituted for the township of Goole and district of Marshland for the sake of giving effect to an agreement of the parochial officers of the different townships of such district, that they would bear all the necessary expences incurred for such sanitary purposes in due and rateable proportions, proceeded in the execution of their Lordships' Orders and expended a large sum of money, amounting in the whole to the sum of four hundred and twelve pounds ten shillings and nine pence, in providing a common hospital, medical advice, medicines, nurses and attendants, and other necessaries, of all which incidental expences a detailed account was laid before the justices of the peace in quarter sessions assembled, and by such justices approved and allowed:

And whereas it doth appear to their Lordships, that such charges are reasonable and proper, and fit to be defrayed out of the rates for the relief of the poor of the several townships in the said district of Marshland, in due and rateable proportions:

And whereas it hath been shewn to the satisfaction of their Lordships, that a statement of such expences as aforesaid, supported by accounts and vouchers, was submitted to the officers of the different townships, duly convened for the purpose of receiving and inspecting the same, and a request made for the funds to meet the same, according to their several proportions, to which no objections were stated; yet, whilst the township of Goole has consented to pay the sum of one hundred and fifteen pounds fourteen shillings and three pence, being its proportionate share of the entire sum of four hundred and twelve pounds ten shillings and nine pence, the township of Hook has since declined or avoided to pay the sum of forty-one pounds six shillings; the township of Swinefleet hath refused thirty-six pounds four shillings and six pence; Whitgift hath refused thirty-one pounds and six pence; Reedness, forty-seven pounds ten shillings and six pence; Ousefleet, forty-seven pounds seventeen shillings and three pence; Fockerby, twelve pounds and four shillings; Adlingfleet, twenty-nine pounds thirteen shillings and nine pence; Eastoft, thirty-four pounds sixteen shillings and six pence; and Holdenby, sixteen pounds three shillings and six pence; such several sums having been applied for by the said Board of Health, from the different townships aforesaid, to provide for the just expences necessarily incurred in carrying into effect the precautionary and sanitary purposes of the before-recited Act, and of the Orders of their Lordships founded thereon:

It is, therefore, ordered by the Lords and others of His Majesty's Most Honourable Privy Council (of whom the Lord President of the Council is one), in pursuance of the powers vested in them by the before-recited Act, that so much of the Orders in Council of the sixth day of March and nineteenth day of July, as requires the amount of the sum to be defrayed in discharge of the necessary expences, to be fixed and declared by vestries as aforesaid, be, and they are hereby revoked and altered, in so far as respects the said townships of Hook, Swinefleet, Whitgift, Reedness, Ousefleet, Fockerby, Adlingfleet, Eastoft, and Holdenby, and the said several sums of forty-one pounds and six shillings, thirty-six pounds four shillings and six pence, thirty-one pounds and six pence, forty-seven pounds ten shillings and six pence, forty-seven pounds seventeen shillings and three pence, twelve pounds and four shillings, twenty-nine pounds thirteen shillings and nine pence, thirty-four pounds sixteen shillings and six pence, and sixteen pounds three shillings and six pence:

And

And the said Board of Health for Goole and Marshland shall and may, and they are hereby authorised and empowered to make application, by their chairman or secretary, to some justice of the peace living in or near the township or division, to make his order in writing upon the parish officers, guardians of the poor, or district churchwardens of the said township of Hook, commanding them to pay the said sum of forty-one pounds six shillings, for the purposes aforesaid, out of the rates levied, or next thereafter to be levied, for the relief of the poor of such township; and another order upon the parish officers of the township of Swinefleet, commanding them to pay the said sum of thirty-six pounds four shillings and six pence, out of the poors' rate of the said township; and another order upon the parish officers of the township of Whitgift, commanding them to pay the said sum of thirty-one pounds and six pence, out of the poors' rate of such township; and another order upon the officers of the township of Reedness, commanding them to pay the said sum of forty-seven pounds ten shillings and six pence, out of the poors' rate of such township; and another order upon the officers of Ouseflect, commanding them to pay the said sum of forty-seven pounds seventeen shillings and three pence, out of the poors' rate of such township; and another order upon the officers of the township of Fockerby, commanding them to pay the said sum of twelve pounds four shillings out of the poors' rate of such township; and another order upon the officers of Adlingfleet, commanding them to pay the said sum of twenty-nine pounds thirteen shillings and nine pence, out of the poors' rate of such township; and another order upon the officers of Eastoft, commanding them to pay the said sum of thirty-four pounds sixteen shillings and six pence, out of the poors' rate of the said township; and another order upon the officers of Holdenby, commanding them to pay the said sum of sixteen pounds three shillings and six pence, out of the poors' rate of such township; which said several orders such justice of the peace is hereby required and enjoined to make, in pursuance and exercise of the powers vested in him by the before-recited Act; and the said parish officers, guardians of the poor, or district churchwardens, are hereby ordered and commanded to pay such several sums of money in obedience to the order of such justice, in the manner therein directed, or they will incur the penalties consequent upon disobedience to such before-recited Act, and to the present Order:

And the Lords and others of His Majesty's Privy Council (of whom the Lord President of the Council is one) do hereby declare, that for all acts, deeds, matters, and things properly done by such Board of Health, justice of the peace, overseers, churchwardens, guardians of the poor, and others His Majesty's subjects, in execution and furtherance of this present Order of the Lords and others in Council, or of any order so to be made by any such justice as aforesaid, this Order shall be their full and sufficient warrant.

Admiralty, June 20, 1833.

Description of the Uniforms which, in pursuance of His Majesty's Pleasure, are to be worn in the Royal Navy.

ADMIRAL OF THE FLEET.

Dress Uniform.

Coat—Blue cloth, with two rows of buttons down the front, ten in each row, and three inches apart across the breast, from the front of the button-hole to the centre of the button. Scarlet collar, sloped off with one row of two-inch gold lace, Navy pattern, along the top and front edges, and one row of one-inch lace along the bottom edge, coming partly on the coat. Scarlet cuffs, with two-inch lace round the top, and blue slash pointed flaps in the sleeve, with three small buttons, and one and a quarter-inch lace round the edge. Pointed flaps in the skirts, with three buttons under, and one row of two-inch lace all round the flaps, and one row of one and a quarter-inch lace to encircle the hip buttons, and form a point at the top, one button at the bottom of each plait. The skirts to begin at one sixth the circumference from the front edge, and to be lined with white kerseymere.

Buttons—Raised, gilt, and one inch in diameter, indented with a round rim, and within, an anchor and a cable, and a crown over, between two wreaths of laurel. The small buttons to be half an inch in diameter.

Epaulettes—Two gold epaulettes with forty bullions each, over a bonnet and a crescent, and edging to the strap, with silver anchor and crown, and three silver stars, two upon the crescent and one above.

Trowsers—Blue cloth, with gold lace of the same width width as that on the coat down the outside seams, to be worn over boots between the 15th October and the 30th April; and white duck, over boots, between the 1st of May and 14th of October. Whenever blue trowsers are worn in full dress, those of Commissioned Officers, and of Warrant Officers ranking with them, shall have gold lace of the same width as that of their coats down the outside seams.

Cravat or Stock—Black silk.

Hat—Cocked; the flaps ten inches in the back, eight and a half inches in the front, six inches at each corner, bound with gold lace two and a half inches wide, showing one inch and a quarter on each side. Black silk cockade, six inches wide, looped with six gold bullions, three and a half eighth of inches wide, and the two centre twisted, with a button of the same size and pattern as that on the coat; and tassels with five gold and five blue bullions each.

Sword—The hilt solid, half basket guard, with raised bars and crown and anchor badge, lion head back piece, white fish-skin gripe, bound with three gilt wires; outside length, five inches and three quarters; inside length, four inches and a half.

The blade slightly curved, with a round back, thirty-one inches and a quarter long, one inch and three eighths wide at the shoulder, with a double-edged spear point.

Scabbard—The top and middle lockets to be four and three inches and a half long respectively; to have loops and rings, and to be ornamented with embossed oak leaves in bas-relief; the chape to be seven inches and a half long, and to have oak leaves, as above, round the upper part, and a honeysuckle ornament at the end.

Sword Knot—Blue and gold rope, twenty-three inches long, with ditto ditto vellum basket-work head, and twelve gold bullions; a piece of the same sort of cord, fourteen inches and three quarters long, is to be fixed to the hilt, to which the knot is attached.

Sword Belt—Blue morocco leather, lined, full one inch and a half wide in the girdle; single, one inch wide, sword slings on carriages; the whole embroidered in gold, with oak-leaves and acorns down the middle, and margined with a straight line near each edge. Gilt mountings with circular fronts, two inches diameter, laurel embossed edges, crown, anchor, and laurel on the centre; embossed carriage-buckles, plain, girdle-buckles and rings, the latter one inch and three quarters diameter in the centre; and plain studs under the carriage-buckles, for the more easily attaching and detaching the sword, superseding the use of swivels; a plain, strong, gilt hook attached to the ring, to suspend the sword short.

The belt to be worn over the coat.

Undress Uniform.

Coat—Blue lapelled coat as formerly worn, with stand and fall collar; eight buttons and holes in front, regular; pointed flaps, with three notched holes, and buttons under. Round cuffs, with three notched holes, and buttons of the larger size, and four rows of five eighth inch distinction lace round the cuffs, across the holes below the buttons.

Buttons—The same pattern as in full dress.

Epaulettes—The same as in full dress, but the bullions to be left loose, without the bonnet; and this rule to apply to the undress epaulettes of all Officers entitled to wear them.

Waistcoat—Single-breasted, white cloth or kerseymere, with small buttons.

Trowsers—Blue cloth, without lace.—In warm cliclimates, or on the home station in summer, Officers may wear white duck.

Cravat or Stock—Black silk.

Hat—With or without lace.

Sword—The same as in full dress.

Scabbard—The same as in full dress.

Sword Knot—The same as in full dress.

Sword Belt—Black patent leather, of the same width as in full dress, but without embroidery; the mountings and edges to be also the same as in full dress, but the carriage-buckles to be plain instead of embossed.

MEMORANDA.

Full dress is always to be worn on state occasions and at courts martial.

On all occasions of full dress, Officers shall wear white trowsers over boots between the 1st of May and the 14th of October, and blue trowsers between the 15th of October and the 30th of April.

The great coats for Officers in the Royal Navy are to be of blue cloth; double or single breasted, according to the uniform assigned to their respective ranks, with stand and fall collar; the number and arrangement of the buttons to be according to their undress uniform—to be worn with or without epaulettes, as convenient.

The blue morning coat now in use is abolished.

All

All Officers may wear in undress, on board their ships, a round jacket without skirts, with their appropriate buttons, and a round black hat, with a narrow black silk band and a black buckle, and a black silk or leather cockade, with a loop of the same material and half the width of the lace of their respective coats, or if they have no lace on their coats, of black silk riband (except Midshipmen, Masters'-Assistants, and Volunteers, who are to have a loop of gold twist); or a blue cloth cap, with a band round it, of half the width and material of the lace of their coats; Officers who have no lace to their coats, to have a band of gold lace, half an inch wide, round their caps.

Patterns or drawings of each article of dress are to be seen at this Office, and at the Offices of the several Port Admirals.

The old uniform may be worn until the 1st January 1834.

By command of their Lordships,

George Elliot.

Lord Chamberlain's-Office, August 1, 1833.

NOTICE is hereby given, that His Majesty will hold His next Levee on Thursday the 8th instant, instead of Wednesday the 7th.

At the Council-Chamber, Whitehall, the 25th day of July 1833,

By the Lords of His Majesty's Most Honourable Privy Council.

WHEREAS by an Act, passed in the second year of the reign of His present Majesty, intituled "An Act for the prevention, as far as may be pos-"sible, of the disease, called the cholera, or spas-"modic, or Indian cholera, in Scotland," it is, amongst other things, enacted, that it shall and may be lawful for the Lords and others of His Majesty's Most Honourable Privy Council, or any two or more of them (of whom the Lord President of the Council, or one of His Majesty's Principal Secretaries of State for the time being, shall always be one), by any Order or Orders to be by them from time to time made, to establish, and again, from time to time, by any such Order or Orders, to revoke, renew, alter, or vary all such rules and regulations, or to substitute any such new rules and regulations, as to them may appear necessary or expedient, for the prevention, as far as may be possible, of the spreading of the said disease, called the cholera, or spasmodic, or Indian cholera, in Scotland, or any part thereof, or for the relief of any persons suffering under, or likely to be affected by, the said disease:

And whereas by another Act, passed in the same second year of His present Majesty's reign, intituled "An Act for altering and amending an Act passed in the "present session of Parliament, for the prevention, "as far as may be possible, of the disease called the "cholera, or spasmodic, or Indian cholera, in Scot-"land," it is amongst other things enacted, that all and every the expences which may be reasonably and properly incurred in carrying into effect any Order or Orders of His Majesty's Privy Council, so to be made as in the said before mentioned Act provided, or sanctioned after they are incurred by any such Order, shall, whenever the occasion of such expence has arisen within any city, burgh, or town, be levied and defrayed by a special assessment to be made from time to time for this purpose by authority of the magistrates of such city, burgh, or town, in the manner therein prescribed, and where the occasion of expence shall arise in any landward parish (or in the landward part of any parish containing any burgh, or part of a burgh), the same shall be levied by a special assessment, to be from time to time made by the heritors, or their special mandatories, of such parish, or landward part of a parish, upon the owners and occupants of the lands, houses, and other heritages within the said parish, or landward part of a parish, in the manner therein set forth:

And whereas the said disease extended to many parts of Great Britain; and the burgh and parish of Lochmaben were affected by the same:

And whereas two several Orders in Council were were issued by the Lords of the Privy Council, on the tenth day of March and the twenty-third day of July in the year aforesaid, empowering every Board of Health, constituted by virtue of an Order of His Majesty's Privy Council, to apply to the acting chief magistrate of any burgh, or the minister or any three of the resident heritors of any parish for which Boards of Health were appointed, to convene a meeting of the burgh magistrates and members of the kirk sessions, and resident householders occupying houses rated to the house duty at twelve pounds or upwards of yearly value, in any burgh, and the resident heritors, and agents for non-resident heritors, together with the tenants paying fifty pounds of yearly rent, and the members of the kirk sessions of every landward parish, or landward part of a parish, and to apply to such meeting for the authority and powers therein mentioned, and for funds to defray the necessary expences thereof, of which the amount should be declared and fixed by the said meeting, and further directing the proceedings to be taken at such meeting, and the course to be pursued by such Boards of Health, consequent upon the determinations of such meetings:

And whereas it hath been represented to the Lords of His Majesty's Most Honourable Privy Council, that application for such powers and provisions as aforesaid, together with an estimate of all the necessary expences for sanitary purposes, and a request for the funds to meet them, was made by the Board of Health for the burgh and parish of Lochmaben, to the meeting of burgh magistrates and resident householders in the burgh of Lochmaben, and to the heritors and agents of non-resident heritors, tenants, and kirk sessions of the parish of Lochmaben; when such meeting consented to invest the said Board of Health with all the powers specified in the said before recited Orders, and to provide a sum, not exceeding fifty pounds sterling, to defray the expences of carrying into effect the purposes of the Acts before recited, and of the Orders of their Lordships founded thereon; but the heritors of the landward part of the parish have since declined or avoided to make a rate of assessment to cover such necessary expences (such heritors having been duly convened in meeting for that purpose), until the accounts of such outlay shall have been first approved and allowed:

And whereas it doth appear to the Lords and others of His Majesty's Most Honourable Privy Council (of whom the Lord President of the Council is one) proper and expedient to sanction, by an Order of the Lords of the Privy Council, certain of the expences incurred by the said Board of Health for the burgh and parish of Lochmaben, in taking measures for the prevention of the spread of the said disease, and in affording relief to persons suffering by, or likely to be affected with, the said disease:

It is, therefore, ordered by the Lords and others of His Majesty's Most Honourable Privy Council (of whom the Lord President of the Council is one), in pursuance and exercise of the powers vested in them by both the before recited Acts, and of all other powers enabling them in that behalf, that it shall and may be lawful for the said Board of Health for Lochmaben, and they are hereby authorised and empowered to apply, by their chairman or secretary, to raise the sum of forty-one pounds twelve shillings and five pence, by a special assessment upon the owners and occupants of the lands, houses, and other heritages within the parish, to be levied in the mode of the poor rate assessment, or in such other manner and form as is by such last-recited Act provided; and which assessment such he-heritors are hereby required and enjoined to make, in pursuance and exercise of the powers vested in them by such Acts:

And the Lords and others of His Majesty's Privy Council (of whom the Lord President of the Council is one) do hereby declare, that for all acts, deeds, matters, and things which may be properly done by the said Board of Health, burgh magistrates, heritors, or their special mandatories, tenants, and kirk sessions, and others of His Majesty's subjects, in execution and furtherance of this present Order of the Lords and others in Council, this Order shall be their full and sufficient warrant.

My Lords, and Gentlemen,

IN opening the present Parliament I stated that never, at any time, had subjects of greater interest and magnitude called for your attention.

The manner in which you have discharged the duties thus committed to you now demands My warmest acknowledgments, and enables Me to close a session not more remarkable for its extended duration than for the patient and persevering industry which you have displayed in many laborious inquiries, and in perfecting the various legislative measures which have been brought under your consideration.

I continue to receive from My Allies, and from all Foreign Powers, assurances of their friendly disposition.

I regret that I cannot yet announce to you the conclusion of a definitive arrangement between Holland and Belgium; but the Convention which, in conjunction with the King of the French, I concluded in May last, with the King of the Netherlands, prevents a renewal of hostilities in the Low Countries, and thus affords a fresh security for the general continuance of peace.

Events which have lately taken place in Portugal have induced Me to renew My diplomatic relations with that kingdom; and I have accredited a Minister to the Court of Her Most Faithful Majesty at Lisbon.

You may rest assured that I look with the greatest anxiety to the moment when the Portuguese Mon-

Monarchy, so long united with this country by the ties of alliance and by the closest bonds of interest, may be restored to a state of peace, and may regain its former prosperity.

The hostilities which had disturbed the peace of Turkey have been terminated; and you may be assured that My attention will be carefully directed to any events which may affect the present state or the future independence of that empire.

An investigation, carefully prosecuted during the last session, has enabled you to renew the charter of the Bank of England on terms which appear to be well calculated to sustain public credit, and to secure the usefulness of that important establishment.

The laborious inquiries carried on by Committees of both Houses of Parliament for several successive sessions have also enabled you to bring the affairs of the East India Company to a satisfactory adjustment. I have the most confident expectation that the system of government thus established will prove to have been wisely framed for the improvement and happiness of the natives of India, whilst, by the opening of the China trade, a new field has been afforded for the activity and enterprise of British commerce.

The state of slavery in My colonial possessions has necessarily occupied a portion of your time and your attention, commensurate with the magnitude and the difficulty of the subject; whilst your deliberations have been guided by the paramount considerations of justice and humanity, the interests of the colonial proprietors have not been overlooked. I trust that the future proceedings of the Assemblies and the conduct of all classes in My colonies may be such as to give full effect to the benevolent intentions of the Legislature, and to satisfy the just expectations of My people.

I observe with satisfaction that the amendment of the law has continued to occupy your attention, and that

that several important measures have been adopted, by some of which the titles to property have been rendered more secure, and the conveyance of it more easy; while by others the proceedings in Courts both of Law and Equity have been made more expeditious and less costly. The establishment of the Court of Privy Council is another improvement which, while it materially assists suitors at home, will, I trust, afford substantial relief to those in My foreign possessions.

You may rest assured that there is no part of your labours which I regard with a deeper interest than that which tends, by well-considered amendments of the law, to make justice easily accessible to all My subjects.

With this view I have caused a Commission to be issued for digesting into one body the enactments of the Criminal Law, and for inquiring how far, and by what means, a similar process may be extended to the other branches of our jurisprudence. I have also directed Commissions to be issued for investigating the state of the Municipal Corporations throughout the United Kingdom.

The result of their inquiries will enable you to mature those measures which may seem best fitted to place the internal government of corporate cities and towns upon a solid foundation, in respect of their finances, their judicature, and their police. In the meantime two important acts have been passed for giving constitutions, upon sound principles, to the Royal and Parliamentary Burghs of Scotland; and your attention will hereafter be called to the expediency of extending similar advantages to the unincorporated towns in England which have now acquired the right of returning members to Parliament.

It was with the greatest pain that I felt Myself compelled to call upon you for additional powers to controul and punish the disturbers of the public peace in Ireland.

This call was answered, as I confidently expected, by your loyalty and firmness.

I have not found it necessary, except in a very limited degree, to use the powers thus confided to Me; and I have now the satisfaction of informing you, that the spirit of insubordination and violence which had prevailed to so alarming an extent has been, in a great measure, subdued.

I look forward with anxiety to the time when the painful necessity of continuing this measure of great but unavoidable severity may cease; and I have given My assent with unqualified satisfaction to the various salutary and remedial measures which, during the course of the present session, have been proposed to Me for My acceptance.

The Act which, in pursuance of My recommendation, you have passed with respect to the temporalities of that branch of the United Church which is established in Ireland, and for the immediate and total abolition of vestry assessments, and the Acts for the better regulation of juries, both as to their civil and criminal functions, afford the best proof that full reliance may be placed on the Parliament of the United Kingdom for the introduction of such beneficial improvements as may ensure the welfare of all classes of My subjects; thus effectually cementing that Legislative Union which, with your support, it is My determination to maintain inviolate.

Gentlemen of the House of Commons,

I thank you for the supplies which you have granted for the service of the year. The estimates proposed to you by My direction were considerably lower than those of former sessions; and you have wisely applied the savings which have thus been effected to a diminution of the public burthens. In this this course of judicious economy, combined with a due regard to the exigencies of the State, I am persuaded that you will persevere, and thus confirm the title which you have acquired to general confidence, as the faithful guardians of the honour of the Crown and of the true interests of the people.

My Lords, and Gentlemen,

In returning to your respective counties you will carry with you the gratifying reflection that your labours have been assidulously employed for the benefit of your fellow subjects.

During the recess your attention will be equally directed to the same important object. And in this useful and honourable discharge both of your public and private duties, under the blessing of Divine Providence, I confidently rely for the encouragement and support of my people in that love of liberty and order, that spirit of industry and obedience to the laws, and that moral worth, which constitute the safety and happiness of nations.

Then the Lord Chancellor, by His Majesty's command, said:

My Lords, and Gentlemen,

It is His Majesty's royal will and pleasure, that this Parliament be prorogued to Thursday the thirty-first day of October next, to be then here holden; and this Parliament is accordingly prorogued to Thursday the thirty-first day of October next.

Westminster, August 28, 1833.

This day, the Lords being met, a message was sent to the Honourable House of Commons by the Gentleman Usher of the Black Rod, acquainting them, that The Lords, authorised by virtue of a Commission under the Great Seal, signed by His Majesty, for declaring His Royal Assent to several Acts agreed upon by both Houses, do desire the immediate attendance of the Honourable House in the House of Peers to hear the Commission read; and the Commons being come thither, the said Commission, empowering the Lord Archbishop of Canterbury, the Lord High Chancellor of Great Britain, and several other Lords therein named, to declare and notify the Royal Assent to the said Acts, was read accordingly, and the Royal Assent given to

IN pursuance of the directions of an Act, passed in the twenty-fourth year of the reign of His late Majesty King George the Third, intituled "An Act "to repeal so much of two Acts, made in the tenth "and fifteenth years of the reign of His present "Majesty, as authorises the Speaker of the House "of Commons to issue his warrant to the Clerk of "the Crown for making out writs for the election "of Members to serve in Parliament, in the manner "therein mentioned, and for substituting other pro-"visions for the like purposes:"

I do hereby give notice, that the death of Samuel Adlam Bayntun, Esq. late a Member serving in this present Parliament for the city of York, hath been certified to me in writing under the hands of two Members serving in this present Parliament; and that I shall issue my warrant to the Clerk of the Crown to make out a new writ for the electing of a Member to serve in this present Parliament for the said city of York, at the end of fourteen days after the insertion of this notice in the London Gazette.

Given under my hand the 12th day of October 1833,

CHARLES MANNERS SUTTON, Speaker.

Whitehall, October 10, 1833.

The King has been pleased to appoint Thomas Jones Howell, Robert Rickards, Robert John Saunders, and John Musgrave, Esqrs. to be Inspectors of Factories of the United Kingdom.

FROM THE

LONDON GAZETTE of OCTOBER 18, 1833.

By the KING.

A PROCLAMATION.

WILLIAM, R.

WHEREAS by an Act of Parliament, made and passed in the third and fourth year of His Majesty's reign, intituled " An Act to alter and " amend

" amend the laws for the election of the Ma" gistrates and Councils of the Royal Burghs in " Scotland," it is, among other things, enacted, " that
" the several burghs in schedule (C.) to the said Act
" annexed, shall be divided into wards or districts,
" which, together with the number of councillors to
" be chosen by each such ward or district, shall be " fixed and ascertained by the Commissioners named " and appointed by His Majesty to inquire into and " report upon the condition of the several burghs and " towns of Scotland, by virtue of a commission, dated
" on the fifteenth day of July in the present year;
" and such Commissioners shall have regard to its " being the purport and meaning of this Act, that the " number of wards shall be such that each ward shall,
" at the first election to be made under this Act,
" choose, as nearly as may be, the number of six
" councillors, and at the subsequent annual elections
" in each succeeding year the number of two coun" cillors; and the said Commissioners shall, upon " such division being made and completed, report the " same to His Majesty's Privy Council, who shall
" cause such report to be published by Royal Pro" clamation in the Gazette; and the number and
" limits of such districts, and the number of councillors
" to be elected by each such district, being so fixed,
" reported, and published, shall be held and taken to " be a part of this Act, in the same manner and to the " same effect as if the same were particularly set
" forth and enacted herein:"

And whereas by another Act of Parliament, made and passed in the third and fourth year of His Majesty's reign, intituled " An Act to provide for " the appointment and election of Magistrates and " Councillors for the several Burghs and Towns of " Scotland which now return, or contribute to re" turn, Members of Parliament, and are not Royal
" Burghs," it is, among other things, enacted, " that
" the said burghs or towns of Paisley, Greenock,

" Leith

" Leith, and Kilmarnock, shall be divided into " wards or districts, which, together with the " number of councillors to be chosen by each such " ward or district, shall be fixed and ascertained by " the Commissioners named and appointed by His " Majesty to inquire into and report upon the con- " dition of the several burghs and towns of Scot- " land by a commission, dated on the fifteenth day " of July in the present year; and such Commis- " sioners shall have regard to its being the purport " and meaning of this Act, that the number of " wards shall be such that each ward shall, at the " first election to be made under this Act, choose, " as nearly as may be, the number of three coun- " cillors, and at the subsequent annual elections in " each succeeding year the number of one coun- " cillor; and the said Commissioners shall, upon " such division being made and completed, report " the same to His Majesty's Privy Council, who " shall cause such report to be published by Royal " Proclamation in the Gazette; and the number " and limits of such districts, and the number of " councillors to be elected by each such district, " being so fixed, reported, and published, shall be " held and taken to be a part of this Act, in the " same manner and to the same effect as if the " same were particularly set forth and enacted " herein:"

And whereas such commissions as are in the said Acts recited to have been granted by His Majesty on the fifteenth day of July in this present year, were respectively granted of that date; and whereas, as well under the authority thereof, as of the said Acts, the Commissioners named and appointed by His Majesty in that behalf, have duly executed the said commissions, and made and completed the divisions by the said Acts authorised and required, and have duly reported the same to His Majesty's Privy Council, by two reports under their several

and respective hands and seals, which are in the words and figures, or to the purport and effect, hereinafter set forth; His Majesty doth hereby, by the advice of His Privy Council, by this His Royal Proclamation, publish the said two reports, in pursuance of the said Acts, for the purpose of giving full effect thereto according to the intent and meaning of the said Acts, that is to say:

REPORT

By the Commissioners appointed to divide into Wards for the election of Councillors certain Royal Burghs in Scotland.

To His Majesty's Most Honourable Privy Council.

IN pursuance of certain provisions in the Act of Parliament 3° and 4° Gulielmi IV. cap. 76. intituled "An Act to alter and amend the laws for the election of the Magistrates and Councils of the Royal "Burghs in Scotland," the Commissioners named and appointed by His Majesty to inquire into and report upon the condition of the several burghs and towns of Scotland, by virtue of a commission, dated on the fifteenth day of July, in the present year, have proceeded to divide into wards the several burghs enumerated in schedule (C.) annexed to the foresaid Act, and to fix and ascertain the number of councillors to be chosen by each of such wards or districts, having regard to its being the purport and meaning of the Act, "that the number of wards shall "be such that each ward shall at the first election "to be made under the Act, choose, as nearly as "may be, the number of six councillors, and at the "subsequent annual elections in each succeeding "year, the number of two councillors;" and the Commissioners beg leave to report the result as follows:—

I.

I.—The City of Edinburgh.

That the ancient and extended royalty of this city shall be divided into five wards, limited and bounded as follows:—

First Ward.

That part of the ancient royalty situate south of the High-street and Canongate from the Castlehill-esplanade to St. John's-cross, bounded on the south, east and west by the boundary line of the royalty running from St. John's-cross to the South-back of Canongate, the street of South-back of Canongate to the Cowgate-port, and thence by the line of the Old Town-wall, by the west end of the Grass-market to the Castlehill; also that part of the ancient royalty lying north of the High-street from the Castlehill-esplanade to Bank-street, bounded on the east, north, and west by Bank-street, Mound-place, and the Princes-street-gardens.

Second Ward.

Those parts of the ancient and extended royalty comprehended within the following limits, viz. from Bank-street along the High-street to the head of Leith-wynd, down Leith-wynd round by the back of the College-Kirkyard, and including the houses of Shakespeare square and both sides of Waterloo-place, and then along the boundary line of the royalty that intersects the Register-house, West Register-street, the Royal-bank, and Elder-street to the foot of the Catholic Chapel-lane, at Broughton-street; thence along York-place, North and South St. David-streets, Princes-street, west side of the Earthen-mound, Mound-place, and Bank-street.

Third Ward.

Those parts of the extended royalty comprehended within the following limits, viz. from a point at the east end of York-place at the intersection of Broughton-street, along York-place and Queen-street to Hanover-street, down Dundas-street and Pitt-street, along East Fettes-row, Royal-crescent, Kirklane at Canonmills, the High-road from Canonmills to Broughton, Broughton-street to the place where it is intersected by the line of the royalty; thence along the line of the royalty intersecting Forth-street and Hart-street, East Broughton-place along Union-street, across Leith-walk, down Elm-row, along the northern boundary of the royalty intersecting Windsor-street, and from the eastern extremity of that boundary round the Caltonhill, including the west end of Regent-terrace, Blenheim-place, Leopold-place, Hillside-crescent, and part of Windsor-street; and thence along Greenside and Broughton-streets to the east end of York-place.

Fourth Ward.

Fifth Ward.

Those parts of the extended royalty comprehended within the following limits, viz. from a point at the intersection of South Frederick-street and Princes-street, along Frederick-street, Howe-street, to near the foot of St. Vincent-street; thence along the line of royalty intersecting the Circus-lane, India-street, India-place, Mackenzie-place, Moray-place, Saint Colme-street, Glenfinlas-street, and Charlotte-place to Queensferry-street; and then along that street and Princes-street to the point first mentioned. This ward includes also the Princes-street-gardens, St. John's-chapel, and Cuningham's-fen at Coates, upon which Walker-street, Manor-place, and parts of Coates-crescent, William-street, and Melville-street are built.

That the number of councillors to be chosen at the first election in November next being thirty-one; six councillors shall be chosen in each of the first, second, third, and fifth wards, and seven shall be chosen in the fourth ward.

That the number of such councillors to be elected in November one thousand eight hundred and thirty-four shall be ten—two being chosen in each of the five wards.

That the number of councillors to be elected in November one thousand eight hundred and thirty-five shall likewise be ten—two being chosen in each of the five wards.

That the number of councillors to be elected in November one thousand eight hundred and thirty-six shall be eleven—two councillors being chosen in each of the first, second, third, and fifth wards, and three in the fourth ward.

And the members of the council of the said city shall in all future terms of three years after November ber one thousand eight hundred and thirty-six, be elected in the same manner as is above appointed for the period from November one thousand eight hundred and thirty-four to November one thousand eight hundred and thirty-six, both inclusive.

II.—The City of Glasgow.

That the royalty of this city shall be divided into five wards, limited and bounded as follows :—

At the Court at St. James's, the 16th day of October 1833,

PRESENT,

The KING's Most Excellent Majesty in Council.

WHEREAS by an Act, passed in the third year of His Majesty's reign, intituled "An Act for "further continuing, altering, and amending several "Acts for the better regulation of lastage and "ballastage in the River Thames; and for enabling "the Corporation of Trinity-house of Deptford "Strond to reduce, alter, modify, relinquish, or "abolish dues payable to the said Corporation; and "for other purposes connected therewith;" the said Corporation are authorised and empowered from time to time, and at any time or times thereafter, upon the requisition or with the consent of His Majesty, his heirs and successors, in his or their Most Honourable Privy Council, to reduce, relinquish, abolish, alter, or modify all or any or either of the rates, prices, dues, duties, or tolls imposed or granted by the several grants, charters, or Acts of Parliament therein recited, or any of them; or collected, taken, levied, and received under the authority thereof respectively; or by ancient usage, custom, or prescription, or any part or parts thereof, so far as may be consistent with the charitable and other uses, purposes, and intents for which the said Corporation has been established and maintained; and are further authorised at any time or times thereafter to revive and re-establish any rates, prices, dues, duties, or tolls which may have been relinquished or abolished; or to increase or otherwise alter or modify any rates, prices, dues, duties, or tolls which may have been reduced, altered, or modified under the authority of the said Act; and so from time to time to relinquish or abolish, and revive or re-establish, and reduce or increase, alter or modify, all or any of such rates, prices, dues, duties, or tolls, as occasion may require; so as, nevertheless, that no such rates, prices, dues, duties, or tolls shall at any time be increased beyond the amount which might be collected, taken, levied, or received in respect thereof before the passing of that Act; provided always, that no such relinquishment, abolition, reduction, alteration, or modification, or subsequent revival, re-establishment, increase, alteration, or modification of any such rates, prices, dues, duties, or tolls, or any or either of them, or any part or parts, shall at any time be deemed valid or take effect until the same shall have been submitted by the Master, Wardens, and Assistants of the said Corporation to, and shall have been assented to and confirmed by, His Majesty, his heirs or successors, in his or their Most Honourable Privy Council, and such assent and confirmation shall have been signified in writing unto the said Master, Wardens, and Assistants; and it shall be lawful for the said Master, Wardens, and Assistants to fix and determine the period (so that the same do not exceed three calendar months from the receipt by them of such assent or confirmation as aforesaid) from and after which all and every the rates, prices, dues, duties, or tolls so relinquished or abolished shall be discontinued and no longer taken, collected, levied, or received; or from and after which all and every every the rates, prices, dues, duties, or tolls so revived or re-established, reduced, increased, altered, or modified respectively as aforesaid, shall and may be collected, received, levied, or taken:

And whereas the said Corporation of Trinity-house have proposed to alter and reduce certain rates now collected by them, in pursuance of the said Act of Parliament, for ballast supplied to vessels in the West India Dock, and have proposed that the same rate of charge be established for ballast delivered in any part of the West India Dock, as is paid for ballast delivered in the London Docks; His Majesty, in virtue of the powers vested in him by the above-recited Act, and by and with the advice of His Privy Council, is pleased hereby to signify His Royal assent to and confirmation of the said proposed reduction of the rate of charge for ballast delivered in any part of the West India Dock, to the same rate as is paid for ballast delivered in the London Docks.

FROM THE

LONDON GAZETTE of DECEMBER 13, 1833.

At the Court at Brighton, the 9th day of December 1833,

PRESENT,

The KING's Most Excellent Majesty in Council.

WHEREAS by a certain Act of Parliament, made and passed in the third and fourth year of His Majesty's reign, intituled "An Act to "regulate the trade to China and India," it is, amongst other things, enacted, that it shall and may be lawful for His Majesty, by any such Order or Orders, as to His Majesty in Council shall appear expedient and salutary, to give to the Superintendents in the said Act mentioned, or any of them, powers and authorities over and in respect of the trade and commerce of His Majesty's subjects within any part of the dominions of the Emperor of China; and to make and issue directions and regulations touching the said trade and commerce, and for the direction of His Majesty's subjects within the said dominions; and to impose penalties, forfeitures, or imprisonments for the breach of any such directions or regulations to be enforced in such manner as in the said Order or Orders shall be specified:

And whereas the Officers of the Chinese Government, resident in or near Canton, in the empire of China, have signified to the Supra Cargoes of the East India Company at Canton, the desire of that Government that effectual provision should be made, by law, for the good order of all His Majesty's subjects resorting to Canton, and for the maintenance of peace and due subordination amongst them; and it is expedient that effect should be given to such reasonable demands of the said Chinese Government; now, therefore, in pursuance of the said Act, and in execution of the powers thereby in His Majesty in Council in that behalf vested, it is hereby ordered by His Majesty, by and with the advice of His Privy Council, that all the powers and authorities which, on the twenty-first day of April one thousand eight hundred and thirty-four, shall by law be vested in the Supra Cargoes of the United Company of Merchants trading to the East Indies, over and in respect of the trade and commerce of His Majesty's subjects at the port of Canton, shall be, and the same are hereby, vested in the Superintendents for the time being appointed under and by virtue of the said Act of Parliament; and that all regulations which, on the said twenty-first day of April one thousand eight hundred and thirty-four, shall be in force touching the said trade and commerce, save so far as the same are repealed or abrogated by the said Act of Parliament, or by any commission and instructions, or Orders in Council, issued or made by His Majesty in pursuance thereof, or are inconsistent therewith, shall continue in full force and virtue; and that all such penalties, forfeitures, or imprisonments as might, on the said twenty-first day of April one thousand eight hundred and thirty-four, be incurred or enforced for the breach of such then existing regulations, shall thenceforth be, in like manner, incurred and enforced for the breach of the same regulations, so far as the same are hereby revived and continued in force as aforesaid;

and that all such penalties, forfeitures, or imprisonments, when so incurred, shall be enforced in manner following, that is to say, either by such ways and means by which the same might, on the said twenty-first of April one thousand eight hundred and thirty-four, have been lawfully enforced, or by the sentence and adjudication of the Court of Justice established at Canton aforesaid, under and in pursuance of the said Act of Parliament:

Provided also, and it is further declared, that the regulations herein contained are and shall be considered as provisional only, and as intended to continue in force only until His Majesty shall be pleased to make such further or other order in the premises, in pursuance of the said Act of Parliament, as to His Majesty, with the advice of His Privy Council, may hereafter seem salutary or expedient, in reference to such further information and experience as may hereafter be derived from the future course of the said trade:

And it is hereby further ordered, that the said Superintendents shall compile and publish, for the information of all whom it may concern, the several regulations hereby established and confirmed as aforesaid; and that such publication, when so made with the authority of the said Superintendents, shall, for all purposes, be deemed and taken to be legal and conclusive evidence of the existence and of the terms of any such regulation:

And it is further ordered, that the said Superintendents shall, on the arrival of any British ship or vessel at the port of Canton aforesaid, cause to be delivered to the master, commander, or other principal officer of such ship or vessel, a copy of such regulations; and that every such master, commander, or other officer, together with every other person arriving in or being on board any such ship, shall be bound, and is hereby required, to conform himself to such regulations:

C. C. Greville.

At the Court at Brighton, the 9th day of December 1833,

PRESENT,

The KING's Most Excellent Majesty in Council.

WHEREAS by a certain Act of Parliament, made and passed in the third and fourth year of His Majesty's reign, intituled "An Act to regulate "the trade to China and India," it is, amongst other things, enacted, that it shall and may be lawful for His Majesty, by any such Order or Orders as to His Majesty in Council shall appear expedient and salutary, to create a Court of Justice, with criminal and Admiralty jurisdiction, for the trial of offences committed by His Majesty's subjects within the dominions of the Emperor of China, and the ports and havens thereof, and on the high seas within one hundred miles of the coast of China, and to appoint one of the Superintendents in the said Act mentioned to be the Officer to hold such Court, and other Officers for executing the process thereof; now, therefore, in pursuance of the said Act, and in execution of the powers thereby in His Majesty in Council in that behalf vested, it is hereby ordered by His Majesty, by and with the advice of His Privy Council, that there shall be a Court of Justice, with criminal and Admiralty jurisdiction, for the purposes aforesaid, which Court shall be holden at Canton, in the said dominions, or on board any British ship or vessel in the port or harbour of Canton, and that the said Court shall be holden by the Chief Superintendent

dent for the time being, appointed, or to be appointed, by His Majesty under and in pursuance of the said Act of Parliament:

And it is further ordered, that the practice and proceedings of the said Court upon the trial of all issues of fact or law to be joined upon any indictments or informations to be therein brought or prosecuted shall be conformable to and correspond with the practice and proceedings of the Courts of Oyer and Terminer and Goal delivery in England, upon the trial of such issues in such Courts, so far as it may be practicable to maintain such conformity and correspondence, regard being had to the difference of local circumstances; and especially it is hereby ordered, that every such trial of any such issue of fact, or of mixed fact and law, shall be by the said Chief Superintendent for the time being and a jury of twelve men, and that upon every such trial the examination of witnesses for and against the party or parties charged shall take place vivâ voce in open Court; and that the sentence or judgment of the said Court upon every such trial, founded upon the verdict of such jury, shall be pronounced in open Court by such Chief Superintendent as the presiding judge thereof:

And whereas it will be neeessary to frame and prescribe rules of practice and proceeding to be observed upon all such prosecutions, in order to ascertain how far the same can be brought into conformity with the practice and proceeding of His Majesty's Courts of Oyer and Terminer and Goal delivery in England, and how far it may be necessary to deviate from such practice and proceeding by reason of the differences of local circumstances, it is, therefore, further ordered, that such Chief Superintendent for the time being shall be, and he is hereby authorised from time to time, but subject to the provisions aforesaid, to promulgate all such rules of practice and proceeding as it may be neeessary to adopt and follow, upon, or previously to, the commitment of any person to take his trial in the said Court, and respecting the taking of bail for the appearance of any such person at such trial, and respecting the form and manner of preferring and finding indictments, and of exhibiting criminal informations against any persons eharged with any erimes or offences before the said Court; and respecting the manner of summoning and eonvening jurors for the trial of sueh indictments or informations; and respecting qualifications of such jurors, and the mode of summoning and eompelling the attendance of witnesses; and respecting the process of the said Court, and the mode of carrying the same into execution; and respecting the times and places of holding such Courts, and the duties of the respective ministerial Officers attending the same, whom he is hereby authorised to appoint provisionally, subject to His Majesty's approbation; and also respecting every other matter and thing eonneeted with the administration of justiee therein which it may be found necessary to regulate:

And it is further ordered, that all rules so to be promulgated as aforesaid shall be binding and take effect from the respective days of the dates thereof, but that the same shall, by such Chief Superintendent, be transmitted to one of His Majesty's Principal Secretaries of State, for His Majesty's approbation or disallowance, and that any such rule shall cease to be binding, or to have any force or effect, from and after the time of which His Majesty's disallowance thereof shall be made known to such Chief Superintendent for the time being:

And it is further ordered, that a record shall be duly made and preserved of all the proceedings, judgments, and sentences of the said Court, which record shall be retained in the custody of an Officer of

of the said Court, to be by the Chief Superintendent specially charged with the performance of that duty :

And the Right Honourable Viscount Palmerston, one of His Majesty's Principal Secretaries of State, is to give the necessary directions herein accordingly.

C. C. Greville.

At the Court at Brighton, the 9th day of December 1833,

PRESENT,

The KING's Most Excellent Majesty in Council.

WHEREAS by a certain Act of Parliament, made and passed in the third and fourth year of His Majesty's reign, intituled "An Act to "regulate the trade to China and India," it is, amongst other things, enacted, that it shall and may be lawful for His Majesty, by any such Order or Orders as to His Majesty in Council shall appear expedient and salutary, to give to the Superintendents in the said Act mentioned, or any one of them, powers and authorities over and in respect of the trade and commerce of His Majesty's subjects within any part of the dominions of the Emperor of China; and to make and issue directions and regulations touching the said trade and commerce, and for the government of His Majesty's subjects within the said dominions :

And it is thereby further enacted, that it shall and may be lawful for His Majesty, by and with the advice of His Privy Council, by any Order or Orders to be issued from time to time, to impose and to empower such persons as His Majesty in Council shall think fit, to collect and levy from or on account of any ship or vessel belonging to any of the subjects of His Majesty entering any port or place where the said Superintendents, or any of them, shall be stationed, such duty on tonnage and goods as shall from to time be specified in such Order or Orders, not exceeding in respect of tonnage, the sum of five shillings for every ton, and not exceeding in respect of goods, the sum of ten shillings for every one hundred pounds of the value of the same:

And it is thereby enacted, that the fund arising from the collection of such duties, shall be appropriated in such manner as His Majesty in Council shall direct towards defraying the expence of the establishments, by the said Act authorised, within the said dominions; now, therefore, in pursuance of the said Act, and in execution of the powers thereby in His Majesty in Council in that behalf vested, it is hereby ordered by His Majesty, by and with the advice of His Privy Council, that it shall be lawful for the Superintendents, appointed by virtue of the said Act of Parliament, for the time being, and for any person or persons duly authorised by them respectively, to recover and receive from all masters or other chief officers, or commanders, of all ships and vessels belonging to any of His Majesty's subjects which may enter the port of Canton, or may be trading at that port, the sum or sums of money following, that is to say,—in respect to tonnage the sum of two shillings for every ton as per register of such ships and vessels, and so in proportion for any fractional part of a ton; and in respect of goods imported and exported, except bullion, at and after the rate of seven shillings for every one hundred pounds of the value of the same:

And it is further ordered, that the value of the goods composing the inward cargoes of such ships or vessels shall be fixed by the current market prices of such goods at Canton aforesaid, exclusive of the import duty, and that the value of the goods composing the outward cargoes of such ships or vessels shall shall be estimated by the current market prices at Canton aforesaid, of the articles composing the same at the period of shipment, exclusive of the export duties :

And it is further ordered, that if any difference of opinion should arise as to the market prices aforesaid, the same shall be determined and fixed by two indifferent British merchants or subjects residing at the place, one to be chosen and appointed by the said Superintendents, or by the person or persons authorised by them respectively, and the other by the master of the vessel, or by the consignee or shipper of the cargo, which two persons previously to their entering into the consideration of the subject referred to them, shall appoint a third person, being also a British merchant or subject, residing at the place, to be the umpire in the event of their disagreeing upon the point referred to them ; and in case the two persons so chosen shall not agree and award the same within seven days after such appointment, then such third person, so previously chosen and appointed, shall decide and determine the said current market price, within the space of three days after the expiration of the seven days, unless it shall be otherwise mutually agreed upon between the said Superintendents or person or persons authorised by them respectively, and the consignee or shipper of the cargo, and such sum shall be paid in either case as shall be agreeable to this Order.

And it is further ordered, that all masters, commanders, or other chief officers of all British ships and vessels trading to or from the port of Canton aforesaid, and unloading or delivering the ship or vessel, or any of the cargo there, shall within forty-eight hours after the arrival of such ship or vessel, deliver to the said Superintendents, or to the person or persons authorised by them for that purpose respectively, a true manifest in writing, upon oath, specifying the particulars of the whole cargo of such ship or vessel, so to be unloaded or delivered, or of such part thereof as shall be unloaded or delivered there, and to whom consigned; and likewise twenty-four hours before the said masters, commanders, or other chief officers, require the outward clearances or passports for their said ships or vessels, they shall deliver to the said Superintendents, or to the person or persons authorised by them for that purpose respectively, a true manifest in writing, upon oath, specifying the particulars of the whole cargo of such ship or vessel laden there, or of such part thereof as shall have been laden or received on board such ship or vessel in the said port of Canton, which oaths the said Superintendents, or person or persons authorised by them respectively, are and is hereby empowered and required to administer gratis upon request:

And it is further ordered, that all bills of lading of such ships or vessels shall specify to pay the said monies accordingly under the denomination of "Contribution as by China Trade Act, and the Order in Council thereupon issued;" and the persons paying the same shall be reimbursed by the persons to whom the said goods shall be consigned, or who shall receive the same, or by their respective freighters; and in case the master or commander of such ship or vessel shall neglect to specify the payment of the said monies in the bill or bills of lading, as aforesaid, he shall be answerable for the same:

And it is further ordered, that for the better securing and collecting the payment of the said monies herein directed to be levied for the purposes aforesaid, the said Superintendents, or the person or persons authorised by them, shall, and they are hereby respectively authorised and required, to detain the clearances outward and all other papers of all such British ships or vessels as aforesaid, and

and not to give or deliver any dispatch or passport for any such ship or vessel until payment be made as required:

And it is hereby further ordered, that no such British ship shall be admitted to entry at any port in any part of His Majesty's dominions unless the master shall produce to the proper Officer of the Customs, or other proper Officer, the said clearances so to be given on departure from the port of Canton, or from any other port at which such duties as aforesaid ought to have been paid:

And it is further ordered, that all monies to be raised or received by the authority of the said Act, and of this present Order, shall be appropriated towards defraying the expences of the said Superintendents and of their establishment, and of the Officers subordinate to them at Canton:

And the Right Honourable the Lords Commissioners of His Majesty's Treasury, and the Right Honourable Viscount Palmerston, one of His Majesty's Principal Secretaries of State, and the Commissioners for the Affairs of India, are to give the necessary directions herein as may to them respectively appertain.

C. C. Greville.

Whitehall, December 13, 1833.

An Address to the King, from the Provost, Magistrates, and Council of the town of Leith, expressive of gratitude to His Majesty for the restoration of their freedom, and their emancipation from the yoke of feudal vassalage, having been transmitted to the Right Honourable Viscount Melbourne, one of His Majesty's Principal Secretaries of State, has been by him presented to His Majesty, who was pleased to receive the same very graciously.

In pursuance of the directions of an Act, passed in the twenty-fourth year of the reign of His late Majesty King George the Third, intituled "An Act "to repeal so much of two Acts, made in the tenth "and fifteenth years of the reign of His present "Majesty, as authorises the Speaker of the House "of Commons to issue his warrant to the Clerk of "the Crown, for making out writs for the election "of Members to serve in Parliament, in the manner "therein mentioned, and for substituting other pro-"visions for the like purposes:"

I do hereby give notice, that the death of Charles Marjoribanks, Esq. late a Member serving in this present Parliament for the county of Berwick, hath been certified to me in writing, under the hands of two Members serving in this present Parliament; and that I shall issue my warrant to the Clerk of the Crown to make out a new writ for the electing of a Member to serve in this present Parliament for the said county of Berwick, at the end of fourteen days after the insertion of this notice in the London Gazette.

Given under my hand the 13th day of December 1833,

CHARLES MANNERS SUTTON, Speaker.

Whitehall, December 3, 1833.

The King has been pleased to give and grant unto Lieutenant-Colonel Gideon Gorrequer, Member of the Imperial Ottoman Order of the Crescent, Knight of the Royal Hanoverian Guelphic Order, and Knight Commander of the Royal Sicilian Military Order of Saint Ferdinand and of Merit, His royal licence and permission that he may accept and wear the insignia of a Knight Commander of the Royal Sardinian Order of Saint Maurice and Saint Lazare, which His Majesty Charles-Albert, King of Sardinia, has conferred upon him, in testimony of that Sovereign's approbation of his distinguished conduct at the attack and reduction of Genoa in 1814; provided nevertheless, that the said royal licence and permission doth not authorise, and shall not be deemed or construed to authorise, the assumption of any style, appellation, rank, precedence, or privilege appertaining unto a Knight Bachelor of these realms:

And His Majesty has also been pleased to command, that this His concession and especial mark of His royal favour be registered, together with the relative documents, in His College of Arms.
